Paths after Graduation

1. Blue Book: Introduction

This handbook covers academic information, administrative procedures, code of conduct for students and basic regulations from which you are advised necessarily as a student of the Department of American Studies.

2. College of International Studies

1) College Summary

The College of International Studies takes as its foundation the educational philosophy of Keimyung University in pursuing the "Land of Truth, Love, and Justice." From the beginning, students, as individual citizens, need to fully acquire this basic understanding through high level international studies education. With this base, the College of International Studies takes as its mission the cultivation of active and able global citizens who possess specialized international knowledge and who can be leaders in the global community. The educational goal of the College is "To cultivate knowledgeable individuals who possess international sensibilities, to cultivate international experts with creative minds, and to cultivate holistic leaders who have a firm ethical grounding.

2) College Composition

The College of International Studies is composed of three academic divisions and three academic departments: Korean Language and Literature (Korean Language and Literature and Korean Studies), Foreign Language and Literature (English Language and Literature, German Language and Literature, Chinese Language and Literature, Japanese Language and Literature, and Russian Language and Literature), International Area Studies (Chinese Studies, Japanese Studies, American Studies, European Studies, Spanish and Latin American Studies), Philosophy & Ethics, History, and Christian Studies

3. Department of American Studies

1) Introduction

The American Studies Major began in 1983 with the founding of the Department of Anglo-American Studies, which was the first of its kind in Korea. While adhering to the idea of England as "Motherland" but with a focus on America as a region, the Department of Anglo-American Studies strove for a comprehensive understanding of English and American politics, economy, society and culture. In 1988, the Department of Anglo-American Studies officially changed its name to the Department of American Studies. The realization of the need for in depth, inter-disciplinary America focused research came after much deliberation among the professors and students in the Department. Following the change, the Department began to offer a variety of courses related to American Studies in addition to English language courses. Using language as a foundation to gain practical knowledge of American politics, economy, society, and culture, the Department endeavors to train students who can think critically while properly understanding America.

2) Academic Objectives

- I. To educate specialists with practical knowledge of America.
- II. To foster fluency in practical English.
- III. To promote a comprehensive understanding of America.

3) Paths after Graduation

Graduates from the Department of American Studies pursue a wide range of opportunities. Those who participate in language programs or study abroad in America can find positions at translation and interpretation agencies as well as jobs in English education. There are also those graduates who show potential to pursue academic careers as professors in domestic or international universities.

Possessing comprehensive knowledge about America, some graduates are working for internationally oriented institutions in Korea such as the Korea Foundation or the United States Embassy in Seoul. Educated with international sensibilities, American Studies graduates are expressing their abilities throughout diverse small and large industries. For example, many graduates work for financial institutions such as Shinhan Bank or Daegu Bank. Moreover, many others are active with domestic and international airlines like Korean Air or Asiana, or are working in the travel and tourism sector for famous domestic and international hotel chains. Furthermore, there are many graduates who find employment as local or national civil servants. Most importantly, since from year one many students worry about their abilities and their career paths, through counseling from their professors they can decide upon an area of interest, and if students work hard using the systematic advice of graduates with jobs in their preferred field, they too can achieve their dreams.

9) Emergency Notice

In the event of any emergency situation, announce quickly and clearly through contact system by year.

(Department Office / President of Society →

Representative by year → All students)

10) Disaster Evacuation Training

▶ Earthquake

※ The campus buildings are built from concrete without earthquake resistant design.

① When you sense an earthquake, open the closest door wide.

- There is a possibility that you cannot evacuate as the door may not be opened due to the twisted status of the building.
- The person who first opened the door should shout fire and keep others informed about a fire escape

② Protect your head with a book, laptop or other article which can protect your head.

- Underground facility is relatively safer than on-ground facility, but you should keep waiting at your place until the shaking stops.
- As delay of evaluation to underground facility may occur due to a massive number of people flocked. Therefore, start evacuation from letting people near the exit out under the direction of the leader.
- If you are staying on third or fourth floor which is relatively upper floor of the building, get under the desk or the table when the earthquake occurs as it is likely to evacuate depending on the condition of damages on the building
(Evacuate immediately when the strength of earthquakes is lowered.)

③ Evacuate quickly through where a door is opened

- Run crouching down and covering your head
- Evacuate avoiding windows
(Do not evacuate through windows as those on the first floor tend to be seriously damaged during earthquake.)

④ After evacuation, move to a wide empty lot

- Wait for rescue standing up for preventing damages from additional minor shakes (It is dangerous to squat or lie on the ground after evacuation.)

▶ How to evacuate building on fire

- Activate a fire alarm.
- If you cannot go downstairs, go onto the rooftop.
- Make your face and body covered with wet blanket or towel when you should ran into flames.
- If door handles are too hot to turn, do not open the door and find another way.
- Once you evacuate, do not go into the building again.
- After evacuation, wait for rescue at the windward side.

※ How to deal with fire following earthquake

1. Shout 'Fire!' immediately after feeling minor quakes before the next big quake to alarm around and turn off the heat.
2. Shout 'Fire!' when big quake stops. Put out the fire
3. The big aftermath is exhausted within one to two minutes, so you can put out in its early stages. Keep fire extinguisher or big fire-extinguishing bowl at any possible spot of fire for immediate action.

Three Recommendations for Better Campus Life

"Reading, Writing and Speaking"

Reading

People say that you are not an educated or a cultured person unless you have read 'Mun-Sa-Cheol 600'. Mun-Sa-Cheol 600 means 300 books of literatures, 200 books of history and 100 books of philosophy and it is a strict lesson that you cannot be raised to the intellectual without reading them at an early age. Needless to say, there are heaps of benefits of reading books. Not reading books can be evidently regarded as that you are apathetic about your inner world.

Writing

It is said that "records last longer than clear memories". Particularly, recording is very useful in your schoolwork.

Have a habit of writing notes helps your memory, makes you monitor yourself and leads you to be grown and developed. If we could only rely on memory without recording, we would lose a lot. The simple habit of filling your small notebook with records in each semester will become a present called 'self development and growth'.

Speaking

Nobody will read what you think if you do not speak because we are belonged to the world of human beings. We ever expected that someone would understand our thoughts even though we do not speak. You you are a grown-up in university and you should express your thoughts now and soon. Also, you will face a lot of opportunities for joining a discussion for a specific subject. Discussion is a speaking technique that argues logically proving with reasons to carry each other in respect of a subject split to the position between 'Agree' and 'Disagree'. Discussion (Speaking) is a basic living of an intellectual.
